A new face in the royal palace

When their dog goes missing during a day trip to London, the Walker family are forced to accept that they may never see Henry again. As the family search for their beloved pet, the reality of what has happened to Henry never even crosses their minds: Henry has been swept into Buckingham Palace, mistaken for one of the Queen's prized corgis

Amy Walker spends every day worrying about Henry - with divorce looming, she can't let another member of her family disappear. The Walkers need Henry, with new friends and a rather attractive new doctor at the practice will Amy be able to save her perfectly imperfect new family?

But as his family searches high and low, Henry explores the palace, getting under the feet of royals and staff alike, this naughty dog will change the residents of Buckingham Palace's lives in ways they could never have imagined ...
