NOTE: It has been brought to my attention that the editing services performed on this book was of poor quality. I'd like to publicly note my sincerest apology for this blunder, and issue that the editor in question has been fired and that a new editor is in the process of being hired with the first task being to update this book. This notice will be pulled down once the updated manuscript has been redone and uploaded, but until then please note that there are spelling and grammar mistakes inside, and that I am profusely sorry. The update shouldn't take more than a couple of days, as I am working as fast as I can to remedy this situation! All the best - Blake Banner

Ten years in the British SAS have turned Lacklan Walker into a supreme killing machine. That, and his twisted, dysfunctional family.

His father, a Boston Brahmin Billionaire, taught him how to hate. His English Aristocrat mother taught him he didn't belong. And when his only friend and childhood sweetheart, Marni, wanted to teach him how to love, he walked away from her, knowing all he would ever be good at was killing, and war.

Now, Robert Walker, his father has called him back to Boston from Wyoming, because Marni has gone missing. But before Lacklan can go looking for her, Walker has to tell him the truth: the truth about who he is, what he has done, who has taken Marni...and why: the truth about Omega.

And that truth unleashes in Lacklan a rage, a rage that will not be sated until he has hunted down and killed each and every one of his enemies.

This is the dawn of the hunter...
