When Olivia found out her mother had been diagnosed with cancer, she immediately moved to small-town Tamlin to help out. Who knew, though, that 'helping out' would mean trying to convince her mother that the cancer even existed, since despite all evidence, Jeannie refuses to believe it.

Desperate for more information so that she can find a way through her mother's stubbornness, Olivia goes out to dinner with Eric, the town's handsome doctor. Sparks fly, and the two can't keep their hands off one another.

But with Eric still working through the loss of his first wife, the town gossip who just won't give up in her quest to land Eric, and Olivia's preoccupation with her mother's illness, can they even get a relationship off the ground? Throw an unexpected pregnancy into the mix, and Olivia may have bitten off more than she could chew, when she moved to Tamlin!

Will the two manage to come together to build a future, or will they remain mired in what's come before?
